Unlawful Discrimination in the Workplace: An Employee Advocate's Perspective

Biography

Lonny Ben Ogus has over 40 years of legal experience. His practice consists mainly of employment and civil rights litigation.

Mr. Ogus has tried jury cases in Cook, DuPage, McHenry, and Will Counties, and before the Northern District of Illinois. Additionally, Mr. Ogus has handled matters before the Illinois Department of Human Rights, Illinois Human Rights Commission, Personnel Boards of the Chicago Park District and the City of Chicago, Illinois Labor Relations Board, Chicago Council on Human Rights, and Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Mr. Ogus has handled employment cases with issues relating to breach of contract, discrimination (involving nearly every type of illegal discrimination), retaliatory discharge, non-payment of wages, disputed commissions, restrictive covenants, and severance packages. Mr. Ogus primarily has represented employees, but he has represented some employers, as well.
